

I pledge allegiance to my Imam
For I do solemnly swear
He'll guide me to the path I seek Divinely chosen for the flag to bear

He'll free the world of pain and terror
Justice will fill the Earth
From every latitude and across the equator
Hidden secrets he'll unearth

I pledge my allegiance to my Imam
I give him all I have
If I remain within his shadow
I know I'm on the right path

Few are his followers and trustees
Our duty's to spread the word
He's gentle, fair, not to be feared
If you knew you'd run toward

I pledge my allegiance to my Imam
But we're causing his delay
For I'm not ready and neither are you
We've lead ourselves astray

He waits for us to come to him
So mankind heed the call
United we stand in harmony
When divided, we'll surely fall

I pledge my allegiance to my Imam
Without him, my life is dull
He sees in my heart there's work to be done
Unlike him I'm not infallible

My Master, My Imam, My Saviour
I ask Allah to guide me to you
My heart is blind and I can't see
Only with your light will I be free

The poet Sura Ali requests your duas.
