

A tribute to the Saviour

28/10/2014

We made a vow
A solemn vow
Until the earth collapses
And the skies fall down

So please save us
Your followers
We promise we're
Supporting you regardless

Of all the pain
They throw our way
And the oppression
They commit in God's name

We call your name
But do so in vain
Although we wait for you
We're not ready for your reign

We wait for thee
So patiently
We are still blind
Guided by your light we'll see

Yearning for your face
The day we embrace
The day we're saved
The day we have solace

We made a vow
A solemn vow
Until the earth collapses
And the skies fall down

The poet Sura Ali requests your duas.
