

Imam Zain ul Abideen as

Today Hussain paid the ultimate price

Him and his whole family sacrificed

But of the men there was one to remain

He's Zainul Abideen son of Hussain

Such desire

Flaming fire

To go and fight

And show his might

How did it not drive you out of your mind

To know there battle and be left behind

Knowing that each time it was a last goodbye

That when they left it was there time to die

To have fought with

Imam Hussain

Your desire

It was denied

A shining beacon amidst the gloom

He made the world brighter it is true

Without Hussain the sky is less blue

Father what life can I live without you

Truly a loss

The world is now

Without Hussain

The world is dark

Hussain went out to save humanity
He went out with all of his family
Oh how was it to hear your father scream
When you were ill oh Zainul Abideen
How it must have
Felt on that day
To hear his cries
When Hussain died

Outside Zainul Abideen heard there cries
And hearing each scream a part of him dies
He tried to stand as he could take no more
Only then collapse on to the floor
Oh hearing them
Outside your tent
Must have been hard
As you were ill

On the floor his tears pooled on the hot sand
And it was wet on his trembling hand
Father its true I can't stand on my own
But nothing is worse than dying alone
On that day you
Became Imam
The true leader
Of all Islam
